

$\text{♩} = 100$  The Fruit of the Spirit. Acts 2. 3; Gal. 5. 22; Eph. 5. 9 J. Hart

1. The soul that with sin-cere de - sires Seeks af - ter Je - sus' love, That
 2. [Not eve - ry one in like de - gree The Spir't of God re - ceives; The
 3. So gen - tle some-times is the flame, That, if we take not heed, We
 4. Blest God! that once in fier - y tongues Cam'st down in o - pen view, Come, soul the Ho - ly Ghost in - spires With breath - ings from a - bove.

 Chris - tian of - ten can - not see His faith, and yet be - lieves.
 may un - kind - ly quench the same, We may, my friends, in - deed.]
 vis - it eve - ry heart that longs To en - ter - tain thee too.

5. [And though not like a mighty wind,
 Nor with a rushing noise,
 May we thy calmer comforts find,
 And hear thy still small voice.]
6. Not for the gift of tongues we pray,
 Nor power the sick to heal;
 Give wisdom to direct our way,
 And strength to do thy will.
7. We pray to be renewed within,
 And reconciled to God;
 To have our conscience washed from sin
 In the Redeemer's blood.
8. We pray to have our faith increased,
 And O, celestial Dove!
 We pray to be completely blessed
 With that rich blessing, love.