William B. Bradbury

1. Great God, how won - der - ful art Thou In all Thy works and ways,
2. The sum-mer's heat, the win - ter's cold, The sea-sons all pro - claim,
3. Thy migh - ty hand, Thy watch - ful care, Di - rect each fleet - ing hour,
4. But in the Sa-viour's work di - vine, We learn the won - drous plan,

To Thee should all Thy crea - tures bow, And med - i - tate Thy praise.
 As each their va - rious scenes un - fold, Thy good-ness still the same.
 And na - ture's count-less forms de - clare Thy wis-dom, love and power.
 Where jus - tice, love, and mer - cy join To save re - bel - lious man.
